VIII. Limited English Proficiency (LEP) Plan

Overview of LEP Plan

Executive Order 13166, titled Improving Access to Service for Persons with Limited English Proficiency, indicates that differing treatment based upon a person's inability to speak, read, write or understands English is a type of national origin discrimination. Any agency receiving federal funds needs to develop a limited English Proficiency (LEP) Plan.

Recipients of federal funding should conduct a Four Factor Analysis to prevent discrimination of the basis on limited English Proficiency.

The Four Factor Analysis includes the following factors:

- Number or Proportion of LEP Individuals: This factor should describe your efforts to provide meaningful opportunities to your Limited English Proficient population. Your organization should ask "What number or proportion of individuals will be excluded from benefits or services absent efforts to remove language barriers?"
- Frequency of Contact with the Program: If LEP persons must access your program/activity daily; the recipient has a greater responsibility to tailor their services to the needs of LEP persons. This factor should be data driven and decisions should be in direct correlation through whatever data gathering exercises your organization uses.
- Nature and Importance of the Program: The need LEP individuals have access to benefits and services amplify with programs where the denial or delay of access may have life or death implications. Recipients should identify programs of this type of importance and describe the process to ensure LEP persons are not denied or delayed in the service or benefit of that service.
- Resources Available: Your organization's may have limited resources may not have to take the same steps as a larger organization to provide LEP assistance in programs that have a limited number of LEP persons (e.g., where contact is infrequent, where the total cost of providing language services is relatively high, and/or where the program is not crucial to a person's day to day existence.) Claims of limited resources will need to be well-substantiated.

In addition, your organization should address the appropriate mix of written and oral language assistance. Your organization should identify the following:

- Documents should be translated
- Process to identify when oral translation is needed
- When services should be immediately available

IX. External Communication (Notification to public beneficiaries)

Your organization should provide information to members of the public detailing their Title VI obligation and notify members of the public of the protections against discrimination afforded to them by Title VI. Requirements including:

- Dissemination of Information: Your organization should disseminate this information to members of the public via accessible printed and electronic media, including posting on the entities' website.
- Contents of Notification: At a minimum, the notification should include the following:
 1. Statement that your organization operates the Federal Program(s) without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability.
 2. Identify procedures to be followed by members of the public to request additional information regarding your organizations Title VI obligation.
 3. Identify procedures to be followed by members of the public to file a discrimination complaint against your organization.

The data will be maintained for the purpose of planning projects and programs that serve various population groups.
