REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Your Court Compliance Officer will monitor all of your conditions of probation and will provide you with your reporting requirements. You must follow the reporting expectations. If you have a scheduled appointment you must be on time and keep all appointments. If you need to change your appointment you must speak directly with the Court Compliance Officer. Requests made in advance will be accommodated whenever possible if you have an illness or emergency that prevents you from making your appointment. Excessive requests to change appointments may be denied and/or considered as non-compliant with your probation sentence and could have negative consequences regarding your probation status. Failing to report as instructed is a serious violation of your probation.
